PORT FAIRFIELD, July 26. Gov. Davis, Rep. C. A. Boudreau, and Capt. C. A. Boudreau, addressed a Republican meeting Saturday night. It is estimated that there were three thousand people present. It was the largest political meeting ever held in Aroostook county. The enthusiasm was unbounded. There was a large torchlight procession led by the Carillon Band. The dispatch of Saturday was incorrect.

STAGE TRIP.

Several Passengers Severely Injured.

PORTLAND, July 26. As the stage from Bridgton was going up the hill beyond Bridge Street, in the morning, the horses were frightened by a flock of sheep, and springing aside, upset the coach. There were seven passengers inside and several on top, many of whom were injured.

Miss Robinson, niece of Charles Goodrich, of Portland, was severely injured. Mrs. Ours, daughter of William H. Plummer, of Portland, had her wrist broken. Mrs. Daniel Palmer of Spruce street, Portland, had her head injured. Mrs. J. M. Lane, of Brackett street, Portland, had her face bruised. Several others were injured. The wounds were promptly tended to. The rest were taken to Bridgton.

Republican Rally at Biddeford.

BIDDEFORD, July 26. The Republicans of lower Biddeford rallied over the nomination of Garfield and Arthur, this evening, with a flag-raising, music, and speeches by Hon. E. B. Hamlin, Hon. Leonard Andrews, and J. R. Libby, Esq.

Stabbed by His Wife.

GARDNER, July 26. Joseph James of Tilton, was probably fatally stabbed by his wife, this afternoon, during a drunken row.

Fatal Accident.

SCOTHELD, July 26. Horace McLean, of Athens, was instantly killed yesterday, by being thrown from a carriage. His neck was broken. His son, who was riding with him, was badly injured.

Civil University Commencement.

WATERVILLE, July 26. The Junior prize declamation was held at the Baptist church this evening, before a crowded house. The speakers were as follows:

Prayer, Miss C. B. Stinson, History, 2. A. H. Evans, The Mission of the Catholic Church, 3. J. F. Davis, Race Antiquities, 4. Miss J. H. Evans, The Nature and End of the Republic, 5. E. M. Stacy, The Cost of Culture, 6. C. M. Brown, The Voice of the Past, 7. Miss C. E. Norcross, Character and Thought, 8. B. B. Knox, The American Constitution, 9. F. B. Cushing, The Conversion of Constantine, 10. J. D. Parkley, Emerson's Music.

The speaking was of a very high order, and indicated much care in preparation. Among the distinguished arrivals by the evening trains were Hon. Josiah H. Drummond, Portland; Hon. ex-Gov. Abner Cobb; Rev. A. K. P. Small, Fall River, Mass.; Hon. O. C. Gray, Fayetteville, Ark.; J. W. Warner, Cambridge, Mass. The commencement promises to exert a very important influence upon the minds of the University. A change in the terms, and in the time of yearly commencement, the erection of another dormitory building, and an increase in the number of teachers, are matters to be acted upon by the trustees. Whether the University shall advance to greater usefulness or fall from its present high position among our institutions of learning, is to be now determined.

Steamer Sailed.

PORTLAND, July 26. The United States steamer Vandall sailed this afternoon, and the Constellation will sail as soon as the wind is fair.

APPEARS IN CHINA.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26. The steamer Catalpa, which sailed from Boston on July 25, is reported to have been sighted off the coast of China. The former captain, who was reported to have been killed, is now reported to be alive. The steamer is now in the hands of the Chinese government.

NEW YORK CITY.

A Cuban Captain Demanded His Rights. NEW YORK, July 26. Joseph Pedrona, an American citizen of Cuban birth, has begun a suit against the Spanish Consul at Havana, claiming that he was wrongfully arrested and imprisoned in that city.

He had taken passage and was on board the steamer Standard, which was bound for Havana, when the Spanish officials came on board and arrested him on a false charge of aiding the insurgents. He claimed the protection of the flag, but the Spanish Consul refused to interfere as did the consuls of the vessel. He was incarcerated two days, when he was arraigned before the American Consul. The case has been referred to Washington.

Admitted. A fellow by the name of John Griffin was quite badly injured yesterday afternoon, by jumping from the front of a car.

The train was moving at the time and Griffin was thrown forward striking on his face. Several parties went to his assistance and finding him unconscious got some water from the river in their hats and brought him to his face was severely bruised.

A STRANGE PICTURE PARTY. On Saturday last about seventy of the inmates of the Insane Asylum, men and women, were taken to Hammond's Grove, in Manchester, where they were treated to a picnic dinner. All seemed to appreciate this kindness on the part of the officers of the institution and enjoyed themselves freely.

Two of the party escaped. One was captured in the evening, but the other is still at large.

SCAR. An exchange says:—The rise to sugar cane at an unfortunate time for buyers. The berry season is at its height and the last year's fruit jars are being dusted, washed and left for winter. Sugar is the indispensable article that preserves summer's bounty for use when cold weather comes. It is a good thing to have it on hand, and it is a good thing to have it on hand.

Another Successful Demonstration by the Republicans of Bangor.

The Republicans of the West side unfurled two handsome campaign banners last evening, one at the intersection of Union and Hammond streets, and the other one at the intersection of Union and State streets.

The banners were carried by a large number of men, and the demonstration was a success. The Republicans of Bangor are now preparing for the coming year.

The new flag was twenty by thirty feet in size, bearing the names of Garfield and Arthur at the top and Davis and Boutelle at the bottom. It is a beauty, and Mr. J. P. Moore and the other gentlemen, who raised the necessary funds with which to purchase it, deserve great credit.

The Garfield and Davis Veterans Guards assembled at their headquarters at half-past seven, and under the command of Col. Garfield, marched to the scene of the flag-raising by the way of Maine street, headed by the Bangor Band. As they crossed the bridge the large campaign flag in the square was saluted with three hearty cheers. The Guards halted in front of Dean and Thorne's store, where the banner was thrown to the breeze, and received it with ringing cheers for our candidates and music by the band, after which they marched down near the church square to the new flag.

The new flag was soon proudly waving over the heads of the large assembly which greeted it with three times three cheers, and then after music by the band came several short and witty speeches. A stand had been constructed in the little square in front of the residence of Frank High Esq., which by the way, was brightly lighted, and hospitably thrown open to the speakers and other general on-lookers.

Dr. Davis spoke in his customary convincing manner, pointing out the positions occupied by the two parties and denouncing that all-conquering Greenbacker who strayed away two years ago, shut out with the Republicans this fall. In conclusion he referred to the counting-out points. After his remarks were over, Mr. J. W. Miliken, chairman of the City Committee, thoughtfully provided for the occasion, and by a display of fireworks.

At the close the Guards returned to their quarters, clearing the flag and Wimp of debris as they marched by.

The exercises of the evening were characterized by that harmony and enthusiasm always to be found at Republican gatherings. After his remarks were over, Mr. J. W. Miliken, chairman of the City Committee, thoughtfully provided for the occasion, and by a display of fireworks.
